Lagos, July 27, 2010 – Sterling Bank Plc (NSE: STERLNBANK/ Reuters STBP.LG – the "Bank") today released its audited financial results for the six months ended June 30, 2010.

Sterling Bank has sustained the drive of its first quarter performance to make solid recovery in the second quarter. These results show a return to positive trends in the Bank's businesses, which were temporarily disrupted by the unique circumstances of 2009.

The latest results are proof that the implementation of its strategic and operational review, as a result of last year's economic downturn, is succeeding. An unrelenting focus on efficiency and asset quality standards underpin the Bank's performance in the first six months of the year.

"We are impressed by these numbers. Coming from our position last year, Sterling Bank had some ground to recover and we are doing just that. There is still some way to go but overall, we are very pleased to show that the Bank is making excellent progress just as we said we would in our first quarter result," said Mr. Yemi Adeola, the Managing Director/CEO of Sterling Bank.

MANAGEMENT COMMENTARY

Business Environment

The first six months of the year have been shaped by:

- Weaker capital positions forcing an adjustment in risk appetite
- Multiple policy measures initiated by the CBN to address systemic liquidity, capital adequacy issues and risk management
- Stabilization of the political situation with the assumption of office by President Goodluck Jonathan resulting in an uptick in activity.

Together, these have played a determining role in Sterling Bank's half-year performance.

During the period under review, the low interest rate regime had a negative impact on the appeal of the money market and deposit-taking. At the same time, a slight improvement in macroeconomic indices showed evidence of a return of confidence among businesses and consumers.

However, financial institutions were mostly cautious on credit expansion with a deliberate containment of exposure to the capital markets, energy products trading and real estate sectors as well as lower- and mid-tier business borrowers.

Speaking of the economic context of its performance, Alh. Garba Imam, Sterling Bank's Executive Director, stated that:

"Sterling Bank's performance in the second quarter builds on the performance of the first quarter. In the accompanying management commentary for the first three months, we stated our optimism on the near term prospects for the economy, specifically beginning in the third quarter of the year. Cumulatively, the first half of 2010 has witnessed a steady return of calm and business activity in comparison with the turbulence and near freeze of 2009.

While excess liquidity and soft risk aversion moderated the appetite of financial institutions to resume lending at pre-crisis levels, therefore hampering returns in our core business, Sterling Bank's focus on business efficiency, risk management and prudent asset-liability exposure contributed greatly in accelerating the profit momentum of the first half of the year."

Outlook

Having achieved stability and modest economic growth with its low interest rate policy, the top concern of the CBN going forward will be to manage inflation. At the macro-level, this may induce the Central Bank to review interest rates upwards which will serve as a boost to the money market and deposit accumulation.

In addition, we envisage that the President's assent of the Asset Management Company (AMCON) bill will facilitate a resolution of problem loans allowing banks to improve their capital positions as well as clean up balance sheets. We expect this to induce some amount of risk taking and consequently move the sector to normalized lending conditions.

According to Mr. Devendra Puri, the Executive Director of Sterling Bank,

"The second half of the year should reinforce the trend we have seen in the first six months. Internally, we will remain focused on efficiency and keeping our cost-income match within an acceptable range. Our results show that the structural improvements we introduced in the Bank last year are bearing desired results. Externally, we expect to see growth in net loans and advances as well as a lifting of the pressure on interest margins driven by events in the wider economy with a payoff on earnings and shareholder returns. By and large, we are confident that Sterling Bank will continue to consolidate on the gains of the first half of the year."
